

Essay Outline

- Intro - Fact about topic
 - Transition from fact to your point of view
 - 3 points for "Body paragraphs"
 - Thesis Statement

Body Paragraphs x 3

- each one needs
- topic sentence to intro idea
 - ① sub point to support
↳ example
 - ② sub point
↳ example/analysis
 - Concluding sentence

ex: Uniforms should not be required.
One main problem is that they don't fit well. For example, pants are never the proper length.

Conclusion = Restate Intro
 with diff words

- diff fact
- transition
- 3 points you defended thesis with
- THESIS statement

* Don't introduce
 New ideas here *

Essay Outline

Introduction

- Fact about your topic that can't be argued with
- Transition to your point of view
- 3 points that will be used to support your
- THESIS STATEMENT

3 Body Paragraphs 5-8 sentences

- all 3 need
- strong topic sentence
 (what paragraph is going to be about)
 - sub points to support
 ↳ example / analysis
 - concluding sentence → re-states meaning of paragraph
- 2-3

Conclusion = Intro in New words

- * Restates ideas from the 3 paragraphs
- * Thesis statement again - Re worded

~~~~~~~~ Don't introduce anything New

Write down some things that you feel strongly about. Make sure they are legitimate and mature topics.

Good example: All adults and adolescents should watch, listen or read the news everyday.

Bad example: I think everyone should have a pudding cup in their lunch everyday.

Thesis

Students should be allowed to choose their own clothing for school

- shows allows for self expression

- Expensive/High maintenance

- Comfortability

Body paragraph

School uniforms come at a high cost, both financially and timewise.

sub point

→ high maintenance

ex: ↳ dry clean kilts

↳ easily stained

sub point

expensive

ex: ↳ buy double clothes

↳ hem the pants

↳ cost of uniforms vs sales ~~clothing~~

↳ Concluding sentence

Good example: Extra curricular activities are crucial to an adolescents development.

Bad examples: Teachers who give students homework should not be allowed to teach.

Hockey is a fun sport.

Hockey is my favourite sport.

My sister is annoying.

Good examples: Summer jobs are important for the development of high school students.

It is imperative that the Canadian government pass laws to lower cell phone costs.

The death penalty should be abolished in all countries.

